Mike Riley : Boat Improvement In Exotic Ports Around the World: A Hilarious Look at the Lighter Side of Boat Repair before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Boat Improvement In Exotic Ports Around the World: A Hilarious Look at the Lighter Side of Boat Repair:

Cruising the World on your own boat means that you are going to be doing a lot of your own repairs. That is just the way it is. But, what is more fun is to fix up your boat till it is just the way you want it! Think of it. You are anchored off a deserted island in the middle of an ocean. Life is good. Fish are everywhere. Ashore coconuts, limes, breadfruit, tomatos, avocados, oranges abound. Life is easy. Easy enough to take long walks on the pure, white, virgin beaches. Maybe long enough to get bored. Time to fix up the boat! Don't worry, your buddies on the boat next to you are doing the same thing. You can compare notes over cocktails as you watch for the green flash. Give each other ideas. Help each other on the hard parts. This is one island paradise you will never forget. This is the island where you carved the figurehead for your boat! Why not? You have plenty of time. Or this is where you painted the mast head. At least if you fall there is a good chance to get a ten for the biggest splash in the crystal water below. Or you tire of your guitar hogging a berth, build a locker for it! Let your imagination soar! That is what it is there for. Let it go wild! No one is there to stop you. You are free. There isn't a soul on earth as free as you are. Enjoy it!107 pages

From the AuthorI wrote this book in Haiti. No I didn't get robbed, wife raped, boat stolen. There are safe parts of Haiti to go to, if you have a boat.We were in Isle de Vache-- the Island of Cows.20 miles off Haiti's southwest coast. It is like Polynesia was years ago!Plus you have time to write!
