This book makes me dream of opening the bookshop!By BoonImpressive research about the book stores, book readers, and book lovers around the way. It's a good confirmation why for many people book is the center of the universe. Also with very interesting caveat, it make this research not boring at all. This book makes me want to open my own book store. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Superb! By Jacqueline LaMonica If you are a lover of books and bookshops, you will find this book simply delicious! I seethed and bared my fangs at anything or anyone who interrupted me while my nose was immersed in this book and the magical world it ushered me into. How I hated for it to end! Great read!

We're not talking about rooms that are just full of books. We're talking about bookshops in barns, disused factories, converted churches and underground car parks. Bookshops on boats, on buses, and in old run-down train stations. Fold-out bookshops, undercover bookshops, this-is-the-best-place-I've-ever-been-to-bookshops. Meet Sarah and her Book Barge sailing across the sea to France; meet Sebastien, in Mongolia, who sells books to herders of the Altai mountains; meet the bookshop in Canada that's invented the world's first antiquarian book vending machine. And that's just the beginning. From the oldest bookshop in the world, to the smallest you could imagine, The Bookshop Book examines the history of books, talks to authors about their favourite places, and looks at over three hundred weirdly wonderful bookshops across six continents (sadly, we've yet to build a bookshop down in the South Pole). The Bookshop Book is a love letter to bookshops all around the world. --"A good bookshop is not just about selling books from shelves, but reaching out into the world and making a difference." David Almond (The Bookshop Book includes interviews and quotes from David Almond, Ian Rankin, Tracy Chevalier, Audrey Niffenegger, Jacqueline Wilson, Jeanette Winterson and many, many others.)
