Lisa Strassheim : Cats Meow Adult Coloring Book: 30 Stress Relieving Fabulous Feline Designs before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Cats Meow Adult Coloring Book: 30 Stress Relieving Fabulous Feline Designs:

The paper is medium weight so I'd suggest putting a sheet of cardstock or paper under the one to color just in case of bleed through. The images fill the page but have a small white border that can be colored, or it gives space to cut out the page from the book since the binding is glued. I love all the different breeds of cats including a Scottish Fold and several Persians, some are fantasy themed.

I'm no artist but I find coloring the cats easy because the drawings include areas to shade. I highly recommend this coloring book. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. About the Author As reported by a very reliable source, the third word Lisa Strassheim ever spoke was "cat". This was odd, since the family's only pet was a German Shepherd, which she knew to be very much a dog. Being born cat-obsessed led to collecting and studying all things Cat from an early age. Simple cat drawings and paintings began by age four, and progressive development of more complicated cat art has continued throughout her life. In her twenties she began a series of pastel cat portraits in the Realism style, which led to the decision to pursue a formal art education. Lisa Strassheim has explored, and had success with, various art forms including painting, drawing, jewelry design, and porcelain cat dolls. She has exhibited and sold her abstract paintings in art galleries internationally. Her latest exploration is cat-themed coloring books for coloring enthusiasts. Each cat illustration begins using old school techniques of pencil on paper, giving them an imperfect sketch-like quality. The artist finds that making art in this way creates a relaxing meditative mood, as she experienced while creating abstract paintings; coloring the illustrations has a similar effect. Lisa Strassheim lives in the Midwest, with her... cats.
