And Chester, a rare-breed Berger Picard (aka Picardy Shepherd) is a star, seen in commercials (now the Geico dripping-ceiling ad), TV shows, etc. Chester is also a competitive agility, Rally, obedience, etc., dog; beautifully and artfully trained with loving, positive methods. Google him and you can see his various accomplishments, and see the methods that were used to get there. There's also a book outlining that, helpful for positive training tips for any amenable dog. Enjoy! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Chester is one clever little dog who learns the ropes of puppyhood as described by him! By Liz I absolutely loved this story. Funny thing is, I met this dog at the Javits center when he was a puppy! I didn't know anything about him when I purchased the book. Small world! I really enjoy books that are "written" by dogs, because they have such an enjoyable outlook on life. Lol Chester has a delightful personality and kept me laughing. Hope to meet him in "person" again soon to tell him what a fine writer he is! VERY cleverly written, a quick enjoyable read! Hope there will be a sequel. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Fan of a dog star By marybeth kafut I purchased this title because I also own a Berger Picard which is the breed of Chester the author of the book. I was pleasantly surprised at how much I enjoyed it. It is a light hearted story written through the eyes of Chester a young dog. The charm and of the writing and the silliness of Chester's adventures makes this a book that will be enjoyed by any dog lover, both young and old. I have to admit that since reading this, my Picard and Chester have started conversing electronically, both Jean Luc and I hope to see more adventures of Chester in the future.

Some dogs are born to be stars... Chester Gigolo is a Berger Picard who dreams of stardom. In this diary of his ambitious first year, this canine actor, -athlete, and author recounts his exciting life in New York City - from his rigorous puppy training to his athletic -triumphs and quest for the limelight. Whether adventuring into town on his own, appearing on television, or -posing for magazine covers, -Chester always manages to find mischief. His unique hijinks have attracted national attention as well as occasional -disapproval from his adoptive parents, Mom and Dad Potter. This Picard is one-of-a-kind, and his Diary of a Dog Star will entertain readers and dog-lovers alike.

About the Author Christina Potter has been training dogs for over twenty years. She has trained various breeds such as Golden Retrievers, Chinese Cresteds, Berger Picards, and an Afghan Hound. She has spent thousands of hours working with dogs on print ads, websites, motion capture for video games, commercials, and television shows--both live and pre-recorded. She was the main trainer on such feature films as Funny Games, As Good As Dead, and Our Idiot Brother. She has also trained dogs to compete in Rally, Competitive Obedience, Conformation, and Agility. Christina, a federally-certified court interpreter, and her husband Taylor, a commercial airline pilot, currently live in the New York City area. They share their lives with their four dogs: Morgan, Hudson, Chester, and Pepe.
