If you are like me and not from St. Louis, but have visited this great city, you will love the creative way that local food favorites and weather are put together. Foods that I haven't yet tried will be on my list to experience next time I'm there. The narrative is enjoyable, as are the illustrations, just like his previous books! I have and love them all! You will love this book!

A curious storm is bringing toasted ravioli, frozen custard, and other local delicacies to the St Louis area. Can the locals eat their way out of this? Grab an umbrella and some marinara sauce because the forecast for St Louis is cloudy with a chance of toasted rav!
