Norman Tanner : Laughter Makes the Medicine Go Down before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Laughter Makes the Medicine Go Down:

I have spent much of my adult life writing plays, short stories, road shows, poetry, and skits. After spending a few years writing humorous pieces for the local newspaper, I was encouraged by my readers to have my articles compiled into a book. I have always enjoyed the humor found in everyday situations and, although they may be caricatures of my life, I am sure you will see plenty of your own life within these pages. Enjoy and remember years past and, above all, LAUGH!

About the Author Norman C. Tanner, a veteran, retired postmaster and writer, lives with his wife of sixty-nine years, Evelyn, in a small town in Northern Arizona. Norman loves to reminisce about the good ol days, even if they werent all that good! Throughout his life, he has enjoyed woodworking, writing, and performing. Norman was president of the Mesa Little Theater fromwell, that was just too long ago to rememberbut enjoyed both acting and directing. His love of writing has prompted him to share one last book with anyone who finds life absolutely hilarious!
