Lacey Dearie : Leger's Island (The Leger Cat Sleuth Mysteries) (Volume 9) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Leger's Island (The Leger Cat Sleuth Mysteries) (Volume 9):

know who did it. Leger finds a key ring with keys to a vacation hotel. He drops them in front of one of the police officers. Leger and Lily stop at a home that Lily is familiar. She would much rather rest inside. It is a lovely place to recuperate. They awaken refreshed . They meet Legers owner, and he is as thrilled to see Carol,as she is to see him . Leger introduces Lily to Carol, and thrilled that she is a small ,sweet calico. Leger is back with his people,and on his way home. I feel another story coming on.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. I like the addition of his new female cat friend and ...By janet walshI have been following Leger through many of his adventures. In this one, he is a stowaway in his family's car - they thought they could leave him behind when they went on an island vacation? Fat chance! Although a stranger on the island, he manages to meet other felines and joins forces with another cat to solve a murder mystery (doesn't he always?) before he lets his family know that he's there. I like the addition of his new female cat friend and hope that the family brings her home with them.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Leger's island murderBy cathaireticWhen Leger's humans plan a vacation on an island, they decide to take Bob, Leger's canine companion, along. Leger is supposed to remain with their niece Carol. He is feeling sad and rejected but when he overhears them talking about murder on he island he decides to stow away in the car. When they all arrive on the island he hides and then sets off to solve the mystery. With the help of an abandoned and sad lady cat, he is able to lead the police to a suspect.This story concentrates on Leger's investigation and his new feline friend whom I expect will return with him to Glasgow. I just love Leger! Recommended.

Leger's family are taking a trip to a tiny Scottish island and he is looking forward to spending the summer with Annabella, Hugh and Bob but when he discovers he is to stay in Glasgow with Annabella's niece, Carole, while the rest of the family go on their trip he is outraged. He hears there has been a murder on the island and knows he has to somehow travel with them and assist in finding the killer. What he didn't count on was meeting a fellow cat sleuth on the island as well as a clowder of unfriendly gossips. The island way of life proves to be very different from Glasgow. Can he deal with culture shock as well as solve the crime? Can he and Lily, the beautiful calico detective work together to solve this case or will their egos prevent them from becoming friends? This is a 16000 word novella and the eighth story in the Leger Cat Sleuth Mysteries series. It is suitable for adults and children alike.
