Al Capp : Li'l Abner: The Complete Dailies and Color Sundays, Vol. 8: 1949-1950 before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Li'l Abner: The Complete Dailies and Color Sundays, Vol. 8: 1949-1950:

3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Enjoying the series. By Hicova As a child in the 50's, I was a great fan of this comic strip and continued being a fan until Al Capp died. I have purchased all of the "Completes" printed to date and will continue to do so until the series is completed. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Totally Meshuggah By Waxwing Slayne Perfectly and deliriously insane. Capp was early Mad Magazine before there was an early Mad Magazine. I can't believe that 40 million people a week read this wild, misanthropic stuff. This is the first volume in the Li'l Abner series I've purchased, but I'm getting the rest. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. all the lil abner meet my expectations as I so ... By Dana Duvauchelle all the lil abner meet my expectations as I so much pleasure reading them !

"Start the day right—kick a Kigmy and avoid a fight!" Introducing the hilarious Kigmy, the critter that loves to be kicked in order to relieve the world's frustrations! Plus Abner takes on Evil-Eye Fleegle and Battlin' McNoodnik, while Wolf Gal, Hawk Gal, and Pig Gal create a frantic Sadie Hawkins Day. Then Abner goes out west in search of Three-Gun Carson and tours the sights in the republic of El Passionato. But that's nothing—Mammy travels all the way to Planet Pincus Number Seven! It's out of this world action and laughs in Li'l Abner Volume 8!

About the Author Al Capp (1909–1979) was born Alfred Gerald Caplin in New Haven, Connecticut. He created Li'l Abner in 1934. In addition to the enormous popularity of his comic strip, Capp was arguably the most famous cartoonist of his generation. He was a frequent and outspoken guest on 1940s and '50s television. The prolific satirist also wrote a syndicated newspaper column, had his own syndicated radio show, and was a frequent guest lecturer at campuses nationwide, a sideline that created a firestorm late in his career. Capp retired Li'l Abner in 1977 after a 43-year run, and died two years later.
