

(Mobile pdf) Look Who's Laughing!

Look Who's Laughing!

From Zondervan

**Download PDF | ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks*

 Download

 Read Online

#1247711 in Books 2003-03-01 Original language: English PDF # 1 8.39 x .59 x 5.39l, #File Name: 031024692X208 pages | File size: 57.Mb

From Zondervan : Look Who's Laughing! before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Look Who's Laughing!:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. funnyBy Katgave as gift0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. laughter is like good medicineBy tammyI purchased this as a giftThe recipient was thrilled with the selectionVery funnyThe fact that it contains works by a number of well respected female authors and humorists is a selling point with meI prefer the variety approach to having to choose a book by a single author for gift giving0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Lots of fun. Would make a great gift for anyone

By ErikaCute book. Lots of fun.
Would make a great gift for anyone

The best of the best---stories, one-liners, and jokes from some of today's funniest Christian speakers and best-selling writers This new book, like its best-selling predecessors, is packed with the kind of smiles and smirks, chuckles and giggles that thousands of readers have come to love and expect. It includes some of the funniest stories from today's Christian writers like Barbara Johnson, John Ortberg, Mark Buchanan, Patsy Clairmont, Becky Freeman, Chonda Pierce, and more. Whether the topic is kids, marriage, pets, church, parenting, aging, or life's most embarrassing moments, the writers will help you keep life in perspective by revealing their own foibles, follies, and failings. Realizing that laughter and faith can go hand in hand, they offer real-life anecdotes that will keep your world in balance even---and especially---when life gets tough.

From Publishers WeeklyWho would have thought that yet another compilation of antics by some of the funniest Christian writers and speakers could be so entertaining? With the accumulation of Christian humor books already in print, skeptics might be tempted to pass over this collection. That would be a mistake. Compilers Spangler and MacDonald have joined efforts before (She Who Laughs, Lasts!; Don't Stop Laughing Now!), but this endeavor is their funniest yet. Drawing from an assortment of professional entertainers in Christendom, this selection includes work from Patsy Clairmont, Becky Freeman, Chonda Pierce, Luci Swindoll and Barbara Johnson. Dave Meurer pens a humorous take on the biblical Sarah's possible thoughts when told she would conceive at such a late age. (Certainly, Sarah wonders, God wouldn't make a woman go through menopause twice!) Clairmont presents the novel idea of mass-marketing adult pacifiers in order to "cork" those who need to learn to keep their mouths shut, and Marilyn Meberg tells of an enjoyable evening spent with a good friend, a coloring book and a box of crayons. Despite the rollicking mood, many of the tales include subtle lessons about emulating Christ in the face of ongoing distractions and distresses. Although every story is entertaining, some readers may recognize a few sketches from the various authors' previous published works. Copyright 2003 Reed Business Information, Inc. Who would have thought that yet another compilation of antics by some of the funniest Christian writers and speakers could be so entertaining? With the accumulation of Christian humor books already in print, skeptics might be tempted to pass over this collection. That would be a mistake. Compilers Spangler and MacDonald have joined efforts before (She Who Laughs, Lasts!; Don't Stop Laughing Now!), but this endeavor is their funniest yet. Drawing from an assortment of professional entertainers in Christendom, this selection includes work from Patsy Clairmont, Becky Freeman, Chonda Pierce, Luci Swindoll and Barbara Johnson. Dave Meurer pens a humorous take on the biblical Sarah's possible thoughts when told she would conceive at such a late age. (Certainly, Sarah wonders, God wouldn't make a woman go through menopause twice!) Clairmont presents the novel idea of mass-marketing adult pacifiers in order to 'cork' those who need to learn to keep their mouths shut, and Marilyn Meberg tells of an enjoyable evening spent with a good friend, a coloring book and a box of crayons. Despite the rollicking mood, many of the tales include subtle lessons about emulating Christ in the face of ongoing distractions and distresses. Although every story is entertaining, some readers may recognize a few sketches from the various authors' previous published works. (Mar.) -- Publisher's WeeklyFrom the Back CoverThat's right—if you don't like to laugh, stop now, while you can! Because this collection of stories, jokes, quips, and anecdotes doesn't leave off at mere chuckles. It's meant to produce gale—force laughter, with gusts up to 100 mph. "It is rare that I find a book that makes me laugh out loud and finds me snickering well after putting the book down. Look Who's Laughing! is one of those very few books that do exactly that. Read this book when you are alone, or you might not be able to finish it. A single story, a slight snicker, and all of a sudden it is moving through other people's hands so fast you'll find yourself chasing it down to get it back. Luckily, it is easy to track down...just follow the laughter." -- Midwest Book Need we say more? Go ahead and Look Who's Laughing! It's about to be you!