However there are Some questionable jokes in this book. Quite a few religious jokes. And at least one that could be seen as racist with the punch line as "wok-n-roll". Those ones I didn't think should be included in my elementary kids school lunches. The other jokes were fine and great. But the ones mentioned above were just off putting enough to get a 2 star eating from me. 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Cute, but not for younger kids By GCI had the same problem with this book as I did with a similar book (Lunch Lines): A lot of the jokes are just over the head of a young elementary school student. I have second grade twins and I estimate that I couldn't use 40% of the book because I know they aren't going to get the joke. Many of the jokes use vocabulary, or plays on words, or phrases that they just don't know yet. I also think the tear out sheets in this book are a little large. One joke per page. I think they could have doubled the jokes. Despite all this, it's still a cute, colorful, fun book and your kids will surely enjoy the lunchtime jokes. I would recommend this more for 9-12 year olds. I think they will get most of the jokes... 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Kids love them By Sarah My kids look forward to these and share them with each other over dinner each night. Easy to use with a great pay off!!!

This book will remind children that laughter is a gift from God. It is packed with colorful tear-out notes parents can pack in lunch boxes or tuck in backpacks to brighten their child's day.
