David Kalvitis : The Greatest Dot-to-Dot Book in the World, Book 3 before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Greatest Dot-to-Dot Book in the World, Book 3:

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Lots and Lots of Fun! By Keith B. As good as the previous three books of the series we've bought. The puzzles are complex and fun to do but not too crazy hard that you can't figure everything out after several moments of twisting and turning the page eventually the picture comes into focus. Keep making these and we'll keep buying them. The only thing we don't like are the 'crazy' puzzles where you have to figure out what number corresponds to smiley faces, card suit pictures and other images so small they're almost impossible to see. Those puzzles are just skipped in each book. But the rest is a great deal of fun and relaxation. Highly recommended. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. I am in dot-to-dot heaven! By musicmamma I love dot-to-dot puzzles and these are fun. I have the first four and now I am on the third book. The numbers are small so I use a magnifying glaas to see some of the numbers. I like that the puzzles also use letters in them also. They have puzzles that have stars in so you have to stop when you get to a star and look for the next set of numbers. There are also puzzles where all there is are line of dots with letters and number that are use as reference points. The directions tell which dots to connect to make the picture. With all the different types of puzzles that are in each of these books, it would be hard to be bored. I enjoy the books and I am sad when I finish one. These are great books and easy to work on. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Almost perfect By Loves to read... This book would have gotten a 5 star if it didn't try to mix activities. They inserted a couple of 'crazy dots' exercises where they used symbols instead of numbers. This wouldn't necessarily have been a bad idea except that coming up with so many different symbols resulted in way-too-small images that were impossible to read. The symbols were not clear. The variations in when to stop a number sequence and then skip to a new spot, following segmented instructions, and even the 'no dot' exercise were very challenging.

Continuing in the tradition of Books 1 and 2, The Greatest Dot-to-Dot Book in the World Book 3 is the third in a series of connect-the-dot books which stand apart because of their complexity and variety. As in Books 1 and 2, there are traditional dot-to-dots as well as unique innovations and variations for those who can count into the hundreds and follow simple instructions. Readers will appreciate the fact that you can't tell what the images are before you start as well as the playful challenges that maintain excitement throughout this book of all new puzzles. This fun and relaxing book will entertain young and old alike! Ages 8-adult.

A Note from the Author
Connect-the-dot puzzles are a fun, quiet activity that I always enjoyed as a child. As an adult, I found that all the books available were for young children just learning their numbers, with drawings that gave away the final pictures. Being a lifelong puzzle fan, I thought it would be fun to design a sophisticated and challenging dot-to-dot book for older kids. My objective was to create a magical dot-to-dot experience, not only by increasing the numbers and image quality, but also by inventing new and refreshing ways of creating pictures. Adults repeatedly tell me, "I used to love dot-to-dots as a kid!" One of the most satisfying surprises is that grown-ups enjoy the puzzles as much as kids. It is also exciting to hear of the numerous ways that the books have been used for teaching and rehabilitation. The Greatest Dot-to-Dot Books have won multiple awards and the puzzles can be found all over the world in newspapers, magazines, catalogs, various stores and on the Internet. I'd like to think it's because I've tried to push dot-to-dots to a new and unexpected level, striving to create a modern day dot-to-dot revolution! Have fun!
