Travis R. Rosenberg : The Hitchhiker's Guide To Canada: Why My Ass Is Leaving The Country Before Trump Takes Office (The Election) (Volume 1) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Hitchhiker's Guide To Canada: Why My Ass Is Leaving The Country Before Trump Takes Office (The Election) (Volume 1):

3 of 4 people found the following review helpful. like Pavlov's dogs salivating at the sound of a bell By S. Donovan Well done! I'm so in despair about the 2016 election that I see absolutely no humor in politics. There was a time when I'd learn about what the right-wing media was feeding Republicans and get a chuckle from it. (As in - HOW COULD ANYONE BE THAT _____. (Fill in the blank with your own descriptor. Mine was "gullible". How can anyone be that gullible?) Example - Mr. Obama's trip to India reported by Fox as costing $200M per day. OF COURSE IT WAS A LIE! A WHOPPER at that! But the moment I heard it, I knew it was preposterous. How could ANYONE hear such a thing and not smell a hoax? That was what was ostensibly humorous about Fox "News". Red flags should have gone up for anyone over 14 equipped with critical thinking skills. (And yes, the same red flags go up when I see something on FB attributed to one of the Trumps that is obvious duplicity. And yet, the undertone eating away all along was - what kind of damage is being inflicted by ceaseless, unmitigated, uncorrected propaganda? At some point, don't these people get tired of being used? Being played for chumps? Apparently not, since the "they're coming to seize your gunz" lie worked yet again, like Pavlov's dogs salivating at the sound of a bell. Obama never seized anyone's gunz, and Hillary had no intention to. But there were scores of people dedicated to stopping Hillary before she stripped them of their 2nd Amendment rights. UNBELIEVABLE! (Well, it should have been!) I'm very alarmed by what happened on November 8. No, Mr. Bush, they don't "hate us for our freedoms". They hate us bc they paint us all as Trumpsters: sheet donning, xenophobic, Islamophobic, homophobic, misogynist barbarians. Imagine living in Canada, knowing that your next door neighbor just elected a serial sexual predator! A man who admitted on tape that he is entitled to grab women's genitals - bc he's a STAR. I don't know whether to hang my head in shame or get a HUGE TATOO that says: I AM NOT LIKE TRUMP! I was deeply ashamed when we invaded Iraq illegally. I was even more ashamed when the story of prisoner abuse came out of Abu Ghraib. But the election of Trump TOPPED THIS ALL by a mile. Bottom line - if you know someone in despair over Trump's election - don't forget that laughter remains the best medicine. 3 of 4 people found the following review helpful. Amazingly funny. By The Other One If you a Trump supporter, you obviously will not like this book. It is a hilarious piece of satire the shows that things Trump have said should all give us warning. Rosenberg employs pop-culture comedy, parody, and writes in very clear funny way. It is clear that he follows closely politics and knows his current events. You will laugh, especially at the "I Have a Dream" MLK speech on Trump. I highly recommend this. Don't be fooled by Trump supporter reviews.

Fresh off the Donald Trump Presidential Election win, Comedian and Satirist Travis Rosenberg releases the comedic tragedy, "The Hitchhiker's Guide To Canada." Part novel, part travel guide, part rant, all-hilarious, part ode to Drake, Rosenberg outlines the reasons he is booking his flight to Canada before the inauguration of Donald Trump. Set in a dystopian world, (the day after the election) Rosenberg's quips, anecdotes, and comical observations of a Trump Presidency will leave readers both in comical fear.
