Sam Hoffman, Eric Spiegelman : The Joke-Off: A Comedy Knockdown before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Joke-Off: A Comedy Knockdown:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Great Collection of Jokes! By Squeak I listened to this audio CD, narrated by a full cast of jokers. I wasn't sure what to expect with this CD when I saw the title. I was thinking it might be a bunch of old guys telling jokes about flies in their pudding or some such silliness. So I was pleasantly surprised when the jokes started. This CD is packed full of jokes, some of them are not politically correct, so if that type of thing offends you, you may want to stay clear of this CD. They joke about sex, penises, blondes and all three at once. Although I didn't spend the whole hour laughing, I did spend most of it that way. Some of the jokes were oldies, but goodies, but for the most part they were jokes I hadn't heard. Some of them were groaners, head shakers, or eye-roller type of jokes. I think anyone who enjoys a good laugh would enjoy this audio.  Note  I received this audiobook free from the Audio Jukebox Solid Gold Reviewer Program and HighBridge Audio in exchange for an honest review. I received no chocolate or any other compensation in exchange for my review.

OldJewsTellingJokes.com is more than an internet sensation with a devoted, massive audience spanning generations and crossing cultural boundaries. It's a living, breathing cultural phenomenon that has survived thousands of years: Old friends coming together to share company, memories, and, most importantly, side-splitting laughs. In that spirit, the Old Jews have gathered once again, this time for a face-to-face, smile-to-smile, roundtable session in which they perform all new jokes. With The Joke-Off, there is friendly sense of competition as one joke inspires another, but an even greater sense of delight in keeping a much-loved oral tradition alive. Includes: "The Pickle Slicer," "The Blonde in First Class," "The Pimple," "Painting the Porch," "The Continuing Adventures of Becky and Jake" and many more.

"The 'old Jews' who tell the rapid-fire jokes that make up this program are retired New Jersey professionals, though not at comedy. But the amateurish delivery is part of the point. . . . It's silly, old-fashioned, naughty, and—and if you like that sort of thing—enjoyable." —AudioFile
